

DEATH OF EX GOVERNOR ROMAN.— Alexander Licentiu Roman, a distinguished, well known citizen of Louisiana, died in New Orleans, about half past six o'clock on Sunday evening. The papers of Monday state that he had started after dinner to visit a friend, and when about a block from his house on Du Maine street, between Bourbon and Dauphin, he suddenly fell, and, it would seem, instantly died.